LEARNING DESIGN AND TECHNOLOGY PROGRAM: The interdisciplinary program at Purdue has been identified as a signature area in the College of Education. The program provides coursework for undergraduate pre-service teachers as well as masters and doctoral graduate programs for in-service teachers, individuals interested in higher education, and trainers/instructional designers in business, industry, government, and the non-profit sector. As part of its mission, the LDT program offers a fully online masters program, with current enrollments of approximately 200 students. The college is committed to advancing diversity in all areas of faculty effort including scholarship, instruction, and engagement; we seek a candidate who can demonstrate emphasis in at least one of these areas. See <http://www.edci.purdue.edu/LDT/> for additional program information. Inquiries about the position, and all electronic application materials should be directed to Gina Haines (hainesg@purdue.edu).

THE UNIVERSITY: Purdue, a leading land grant and research university, ranks among the 15 largest universities in the nation. The university has an enrollment of more than 38,000 on the West Lafayette Campus and more than 14,000 on the regional campuses in Indiana. It is located in West Lafayette, IN, 65 miles northwest of Indianapolis and 125 miles southeast of Chicago.

A background check will be required for employment in this position.
